LD4P: Pathway to Implementation

BIBFRAME Workshop in Europe

September 18, 2019

Philip Schreur
Announcing Sinopia Version 1.0

- New in this release
  - Search for descriptions created in Sinopia
  - Edit previously created descriptions
  - Look up and refer to Sinopia-created entities and to entities from Share-VDE datasets (as they become available)
  - Better messaging when a resource template is not configured as expected
- For complete 1.0.0 release notes see the Sinopia help site.
Metadata Reuse
Questioning Authorities
Discovery

Knowledge Panel

Data from other sources

Gertrude Stein

Brief Biography
Description from Claggett Library Online: Gertrude Stein (February 3, 1874 – July 27, 1946) was an American novelist, poet, playwright, and art collector. She was the key figure in the Magnificent Mile neighborhood of Chicago, Illinois, and lived in Oakland, California. She moved to Paris in 1903, where she lived for the remainder of her life. She is known for her poetry, novels, and essays, as well as her collection of art, which includes works by Pablo Picasso, Max Weber, and Georges Braque.

Abstract from Claggett Library Online: Gertrude Stein (February 3, 1874 – July 27, 1946) was an American novelist, poet, playwright, and art collector. She was the key figure in the Magnificent Mile neighborhood of Chicago, Illinois, and lived in Oakland, California. She moved to Paris in 1903, where she lived for the remainder of her life. She is known for her poetry, novels, and essays, as well as her collection of art, which includes works by Pablo Picasso, Max Weber, and Georges Braque.

- BibCard implementation from University of Wisconsin
- https://search-ld.library.wisc.edu/
- "Gertrude Stein on Picasso"
Production Testcases

Harvard

Cornell
Community Collaboration
Challenges!
Partner Projects

- Rare books and manuscripts
- Law and East Asian languages
- Working in conjunction with an ILS (Ex Libris Alma)
- Serials
- African Languages and African produced posters
- Open access electronic resources
- Native American materials from the Pacific Northwest
Next Grant

- Discovery
- Self-sustaining PCC data pool
- Expansion of Sinopia
- Expansion of Questioning Authority
- Expansion of the training program